

Journal has Become Very Informative, Interesting

January' 2013 (New Year) Journal was fantastic and it was really a good New Year gift to members from the institute. All articles were good and especially "Authority for Advance Ruling-An Overview" has clearly given the application of Section 245N of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and "No Penalty under Sections 271 & 272 of Income Tax Act, 1961 if reasonable cause proved" has given perspective about the different situations where the reasonable cause can be proved with good case laws. Happy to hear that ICAI has been preparing the pre budget memorandum and our esteemed institute is playing a vital role in the rule making of economy. As a member of this esteemed institute with all its proud, I request our institute to represent the matter "Gazetted Officer" approval of CA's to Government of India as CA's Act is an enactment under Parliament and hence we are almost a part of Government. Congrats to Editorial Board for such an awesome Journal.

Read almost all articles in Dec issue of CA journal and found immensely interesting and informative. Articles on carbon credits and Sustainability reporting were simply superb. I had many doubts on same before, which are clear now. Thanks for sharing and keep sharing such valuable articles to enhance knowledge of young members like me.

I read the article about ERP and my compliments for all involved for a very engaging and lively style of writing and presentation. I will be circulating this article amongst my colleagues. Keep on publishing such articles in the journal, which has become a very valuable knowledge update tool for accounting professions in India.

I'm an ICAI student. I wish to share with you my immense professional pleasure, which I derive out of reading The Chartered Accountant journal, which is very informative and attractive. The Journal comprehensively updates me the knowledge front. The 'Backpage' cross word is useful to test my knowledge and smile please is much fun to read. I am preserving the editions right from August 2010 like precious diamonds.

President Message Comprehensively Informative

Having read the President's address cum message of January 2013 issue of the journal, one gets the feeling that the level of journal has started to have an international appeal. It truly captures the essence and feel of the entire journal. I sincerely hope that in near future, the journal would find its place as an essential reading material in every member's and others concerned desk, be it in India or abroad.

Suggestion

I am writing this mail because I am a regular reader of our Journal and I have a great suggestion for the journal. In my view there should be an expert Column in Journal that may consist: Question – Answer basically queries raised by readers and their reply by other readers/experts.
